

*art by Nick Supina III

Legacy of Eugenics

IN CANADA

September 2021 marks 100 years of the Second International Eugenics Congress. Like our predecessors a century ago we find ourselves at a pivotal moment in the history of eugenics and genetics, where new technologies and biological interventions could well determine the ethical standards of tomorrow. Covid 19 has reminded us that eugenic ideas persist when it comes to prioritizing health care needs and vaccines around the globe.

Join us for this interactive symposium that explores the history of reproductive control, social justice, indigenous sterilizations, and the legacy of eugenics in Canada.

Hosted by Dr. Erika Dyck, Tier 1 Canada Research Chair, History of Health and Social Justice, and the History Department at the University of Saskatchewan.

June 15th, 2021

9am - 5pm all day event

This event is FREE!

Please register by emailing:
d.zakharov@usask.ca

Visit our Eventbrite page for the details:
<https://legacy-of-eugenics-in-canada.eventbrite.ca>

UNIVERSITY OF SASKATCHEWAN

FromSmallBeginnings.org